

Bolivia: Bike Adventure in the highlands of the Andes

From Lake Titicaca via the Salt Lake to the Death Road

Bolivia, the cradle of ancient cultures, is the heart of South America. Hardly any other country in Latin America is so original, both culturally and scenically. We meet the reserved, proud, predominantly indigenous people at their work in the gold mining towns, in the Salar de Uyuni with salt mining and in the fields with quinoa, corn and potato cultivation. Even today, the “cholitas” with their many colorful skirts and the typical bowler hats are part of the traditional village picture. During our adventurous journey we bike along the barren Cordillera Real, on the wide Altiplano at over 4000 m and down the death road into the tropical lowlands. The unique wildlife, the grandiose landscapes with volcanic cones, salt lakes, picturesque lagoons,

Travel Program

1st-2nd Day: Flight to Sucre

We fly to Sucre (2800 m), the official capital of Bolivia. (However, the seat of government is in La Paz.) We take it easy on this first day in the Andean country, strolling through the alleys, visiting some sights and tasting the “mate de coca” tea, which according to the locals helps with acclimatization .

Day 3: First impressions of Bolivia

Today we get to know the beautiful surroundings of Sucre. We explore the impressive mountains of Chataquilla on foot. With the bikes we take a leisurely rolling tour through a green valley to the Maragua crater.

Day 4: Silver City of Potosi

Initially with the support vehicles, then with the bikes we make our way to Potosi. Among other things, we enjoy a long downhill to the Rio Pulacayo. Thanks to silver mining, Potosi was one of the largest cities in the world in the 17th century, comparable to Paris or London. Even today, the mining of silver and tin is an important branch of the economy. It is not for nothing that the mountain next to the town is called "Cerro Rico", rich mountain. On a walk through the silver city we visit, among other things, the Casa de Moneda, the former royal mint. Later we get on our mountain bikes again for the ride to today's stage destination Cayara. The lower altitude is conducive to the acclimatization process. We spend the night in a historic hacienda.

Day 5: Silver mine and railway graveyard

Today we bike through the Andean highlands and let the silence and the impressive landscape enchant us. On the way we make a stop at a silver mine and learn a lot about the mining and the hard life of the workers. Shortly before Uyuni we visit the unique railway cemetery, with its rusty steam giants from bygone times. They lie bizarrely in the deserted steppe and offer wonderful photo subjects.

Day 6: High valley on a distant planet

Our 4 x 4 vehicles take us to the starting point of today's bike stage. Now it gets adventurous. We leave the dusty main road and bike along a secluded trail along glowing red rock formations. The high valley could be on a distant planet. Tired and content, we reach the original hotel built on a rock in Villa Mar. We enjoy a "mate de coca" tea and a cozy get-together by the warm stove fire.

We bike on gravel roads in secluded high valleys between imposing volcanic cones and past beautifully colored lagoons. In this spectacular landscape we can spot the shy vicuñas, flamingos and, with a bit of luck, viscachas, a native species of rodent, or even a desert fox. The wonderful light moods and the unique natural landscapes enchant us again and again.

Day 9: Salar de Uyuni, the largest salt lake in the world

Today we experience one of the biggest highlights of Bolivia, the largest salt lake in the world, the Salar de Uyuni. After a coffee break on the cactus island Incahuasi, which is located in the middle of the salt lake, we jet over the flat salt crust. We experience the dimensions of this huge, white glowing salt surface, each in its own rhythm. We have enough time to take funny and original photos. In Colchani we learn more about salt production and stay overnight in a stylish salt hotel.

Day 10: Wild mountains of the Cordillera Real

We take a domestic flight to La Paz. After a jeep ride across the barren Altiplano, we soon see the mighty, deep-blue Lake Titicaca on the edge of the snow-capped Cordillera Real. We mount the mountain bikes on the La Cumbre pass. Either on the main route or on uncompromising trails, we really let it rip through a rugged, secluded valley. We soon reach our destination, the former gold mining town of Sorata.

Day 11: Chuchu Pass and La Gruta

Today we also test our downhill qualities at high altitudes. Views into deep gorges teach us to fear. At the foothills of the two 6000m Illampu and Ancochuma, we let ourselves be chauffeured to the Chuchu Pass at over 4500 meters. Depending on our mood, we bike on demanding trails or curve down a natural slope. Beautiful plays of light and clouds accompany our descents through abandoned mountain farming villages - while the gold miners wonder what we are looking for up here. After visiting the San Pedro grotto, we pedal back to our hotel.

Day 12: Views of the deep blue Lake Titicaca

With the escort vehicle we drive through traditional villages and reach the strait of Lake Titicaca. A traditional, simple wooden ferry takes us to the other side. From here we swing onto the bike saddles and enjoy the hilly route over the back of the Copacabana Peninsula with beautiful views of the lake and the majestic snow-capped peaks of the Cordillera Real. For adventurous bikers, one of the routes leads on a single trail through wild terrain. If you prefer to take it easy, choose the gravel path. A boat takes us to the sunny island, where we reach our romantic accommodation after a short climb on foot, tired and full of impressions. It is surrounded by terraced fields and offers us a fantastic view.

Day 13: The quiet sunny island

We let ourselves be enchanted by the first rays of sunshine behind the Illampu and enjoy the fresh, clear air. Today we lace up our trekking shoes and take a walk on the sunny island with fantastic views over Lake Titicaca. With reverence we learn some details about the origin of the Tiwanaku and Inca cultures and their sacred Lake Titicaca, which used to be the seat of the gods, as the sun god is said to have been born on this island. We treat ourselves to a typical lunch (more will not be revealed). There is enough time to relax or to explore on your own.

Day 14: Via Copacabana to La Paz

We take the boat to the lively harbor town of Copacabana. At least the crescent-shaped curve of the bay is reminiscent of the world-famous district of Rio de Janeiro. We have time to visit the town with its basilica built in Moorish style. The "Virgen Morena" (dark maiden) exhibited there makes Copacabana the most important place of pilgrimage in Bolivia. We then drive on a panoramic route with the jeeps in the direction of La Paz. The city is located at the foot of the local mountain Illimani in a funnel valley that extends at an altitude of 3500 to 4100 meters and on the slopes of which thousands of houses stick closely together. With the cable car we float over the huge sea of houses. La Paz's cable car network consists of ten lines and is the largest urban cable car network in the world. For the locals this is a practical and efficient means of transport, for us visitors it is an exciting attraction. There is enough time to stroll through the streets and to visit the unique, colorful and eclectic witches' market and other sights of La Paz.

Day 15: The world-famous Road of Death

With the escort vehicles we get to the starting point of today's adventure: the descent on the "Carretera de la Muerte", the death road. At the beginning still wrapped up thickly, we get rid of our many covers as the altitude decreases. The landscape changes impressively during the descent, from the barren mountain heights we reach a tropical forest. Looking at the deep gorges and tight curves, we are grateful that motorized traffic has recently been routed over a new road. Arriving at our destination for the day in Coroico, we enjoy the warm temperatures and the lush green vegetation in the tropical lowlands (Yungas).

Suggested FAQs

What experience and how fit do I need to be to climb this mountain? Is this program suitable for children or older people?

For our mountain climbing trips: If they are easily accessible mountains: For easy-climb mountains, well, you don't need much experience, but if you already want to climb mountains above 6,000 meters and the conditions become more difficult, we recommend if you already want to go through mountains above 6,000 meters, have a basic or intermediate course for a good preparation. It is very important to be physically, technically and psychologically prepared.

Regarding the preparation of children: Everything will depend on which mountain you want to climb with your children, once you are clear on which of our tours or mountains you want to go with your children, we can give you some advice or see how to prepare them before going with them.

Regarding older people: It all depends on the condition of experience and how well the person is in health, on many occasions older people are the best to walk in the mountains because they have more experience, so it is always good to ask and find out about their experience of older participant. To do long-distance hiking you need to at least train or do some tours such as visiting lagoons to get the experience and feel comfortable with what you do, it is always good before doing a long-distance hiking tour to test yourself so as not to be with the problems of altitude sickness during the trekking, and if you travel with children it is good to first train them before taking them, if they are accompanied by an adult of legal age, they must do a good acclimatization before going on the long-distance tour or with high altitude camps. If you want to know or learn more advice, we can schedule a call via WhatsApp to clarify your doubts. For calls or inquiries to this number: +51 943 081 066

For this type of demanding or technical climbing sports, it is recommended to do some summits above 5 thousand meters beforehand and have good knowledge of high mountain technical equipment such as the use of technical ice axes, ice screws, correct use of crampons, and of course all the technical material. For more information, we can schedule an appointment to be able to explain in more detail everything about the mountain equipment and the preparations prior to joining our outings. For calls or inquiries to this number: +51 943 081 066

What happens in the event of bad weather?

About the meteorological conditions of the climate, we try to organize the trips of each tour in the best season to have the best views and enjoy the selected trip but sometimes even in good season we can have bad weather, in this case on hiking or treks trips the complications are minimal, but when this happens during high-altitude climbing expeditions, the complications can become very difficult, that is why the bosses or leaders of the local guides must always make the most correct decision for the safety of our passengers, so we always recommend listening to the best advice from the local guide assigned for each tour. If you have any other questions please contact us. For calls or inquiries to this number: +51 943 081 066

Can I join a group?

We as a local company and connoisseurs of tours have departures on different dates. The best thing to do is to join a travel group to take care of your budget, and of course you can join our groups, but on trips like mountaineering we recommend going in small groups. To join a group, ask us for the dates and we will send you the necessary information to be able to join any of our trips.

Why go in a private trip: For trips whether trekking or high mountains, going privately is the most recommended option, but the costs are more expensive. So, if one joins a group, the prices will be more reasonable. In the mountains, the only disadvantage is if you are in a wall with another partner and if one of the participants gets tired or gets sick. In this case, you have to abort or cancel the summit and return together. For more information, contact us. We can schedule a call via WhatsApp to clarify all your questions.

In a mountain, for example, if 3 people go and one of the participants falls ill on the route, for security reasons they have to cancel or abort the summit or return all together. The same in a technical mountain if the climbing partner gets sick they all have to return, for these reasons sometimes it is better to go private only because for a single person the costs are more expensive for the same reason that the trip would already be private .
