

Brazil: Biking in Chapada Diamantina National Park

Spirited Bahia offers everything that makes up Brazil's diversity: tropical dream beaches, untouched nature and lovable, friendly people. The eventful bike tour takes us to the Chapada Diamantina National Park, an Eldorado for nature and adventure lovers: table mountains, deep canyons, barren plateaus, mystical caves alternate with the green of the valleys, crystal-clear rivers and refreshing waterfalls. Small, sleepy colonial towns from the time of the gold and diamond boom bear witness to their rich past. In Salvador de Bahia, Brazil's culturally and historically richest city, we discover 500 years of colonial architecture. Uniquely beautiful sunsets on Bahia's tropical palm beaches round off our varied adventure trip.

Day 2: Salvador de Bahia - the black pearl

Salvador, the former capital of Brazil, was founded around 1503. It was first shaped by the cultivation of sugar cane, then by the gold and diamond trade. Salvador has countless palaces, churches and monasteries and is one of the most important cultural and historical cities in Brazil. The residents, the Baianos, have developed a unique Afro-Brazilian culture in Bahia. Today we plunge into the city life of Salvador. On a city tour we get to know the historic old town, the Pelourinho, with all its facets. We have enough time to get used to the tropical climate in Brazil. In the evening we enjoy the nightlife of Salvador.

The small colonial town with its narrow streets is a historical gem with buildings worth seeing from the heyday of the diamond finds, which still reflect the wealth of the aristocracy of the time. Day 5: Lençóis - Andaraí - Igatu

It's really starting today! In the next few days we will circle the Chapada by bike on old paths, gravel roads, jungle and single trails and discover its natural beauty. The Chapada Diamantina National Park was established in 1985. The sea was still here more than 600 million years ago. Sand and deposits formed sandstones, from which large, jagged rock formations later developed as a result of climatic erosion. The first stage takes us along an old gold panning path to the town of Andaraí. We cross various rivers on foot, where we can treat ourselves to a refreshing dip at any time. In the afternoon we face a 7 km long, rigorous ascent that takes us to the former diamond mining town of Igatu. If you want to spare your legs the additional meters of altitude,

Day 6: Igatu - Poço Azul - Mucugê

Igatú is the small Brazilian version of Machu Picchu. Many former ruins bear witness to the rich past. Up to 8,000 people lived here during the Diamond Age. Today it's only 400. The day begins with a one-hour downhill ride on a breathtaking single trail that leaves nothing to be desired. We then ride by bike (approx. 30 km) to the well-known cavern Poço Azul with its 35 meter deep underground lake. In the afternoon, the incident light lets the water shine in a magical blue. Of course we treat ourselves to a refreshing bath in the unique underworld of the Chapada. The onward journey to Mucugê takes place with the escort vehicle.

A single trail takes us to the beautiful Licuri waterfall in the middle of untouched nature. Continue on jeep trails to Baixão in a beautiful valley where people live from sugar cane cultivation and agriculture.

Lunch and swimming are the order of the day in this unique gorge. In the late afternoon, the escort vehicles take us back to civilization in Mucugê. On the way we visit a small distillery. This is where the so-called Cachaça, sugar cane liquor or the water of life of the Brazilians is distilled.

We bike along the red dirt track of the Serra do Esparrancado until, after a climb, we reach the highest point of the tour at 1,300 meters above sea level. As on the previous day, today we get an insight into the simple life of the Baianos in the countryside and the endless expanses of the Brazilian hinterland. Another highlight of our tour follows: the 15 km long downhill to Rio Grande - pure biking! A crisp ascent forces us to regain the lost meters in altitude and brings us to the Riachinho waterfall, where we treat ourselves to a refreshing dip. The fantastic view of the unique table mountain Morrão shows us that it is not far from here to the Vale do Capão.

The water falls 380 meters here and usually only reaches the canyon as water spray, hence the name Fumaça. After a period of little rain, the waterfall may have dried up. The area, called Minipantanal, consists of many swamps and rivers and is known for its biodiversity of birds and fish. We continue on a jeep - afterwards on a wild jungle trail to the Rio Roncador. We cool off in its natural whirlpools before heading back to Lençóis on our bikes. For the last time we enjoy a fine dinner in the streets of Lençóis and review the past adventures.

Dressing appropriately for the mountains can make the difference between a pleasant trip and a really uncomfortable one. Clothing must provide the right degree of temperature, perspiration and be well ventilated. Preferably cotton clothing should be avoided, as in humid conditions they absorb body heat.

In general, the weather conditions in the Andes of South America can vary from day to day and even throughout the day. Therefore, clothing must be versatile.

Please do not hesitate to contact us with any questions you may have regarding the necessary equipment.

Suggested FAQs

What experience and how fit do I need to be to climb this mountain? Is this program suitable for children or older people?

For our mountain climbing trips: If they are easily accessible mountains: For easy-climb mountains, well, you don't need much experience, but if you already want to climb mountains above 6,000 meters and the conditions become more difficult, we recommend if you already want to go through mountains above 6,000 meters, have a basic or intermediate course for a good preparation. It is very important to be physically, technically and psychologically prepared.

Regarding the preparation of children: Everything will depend on which mountain you want to climb with your children, once you are clear on which of our tours or mountains you want to go with your children, we can give you some advice or see how to prepare them before going with them.

Regarding older people: It all depends on the condition of experience and how well the person is in health, on many occasions older people are the best to walk in the mountains because they have more experience, so it is always good to ask and find out about their experience of older participant. What happens in the event of bad weather?

About the meteorological conditions of the climate, we try to organize the trips of each tour in the best season to have the best views and enjoy the selected trip but sometimes even in good season we can have bad weather, in this case on hiking or treks trips the complications are minimal, but when this happens during high-altitude climbing expeditions, the complications can become very difficult, that is why the bosses or leaders of the local guides must always make the most correct decision for the safety of our passengers, so we always recommend listening to the best advice from the local guide assigned for each tour. If you have any other questions please contact us. For calls or inquiries to this number: +51 943 081 066

Can I join a group?

We as a local company and connoisseurs of tours have departures on different dates. The best thing to do is to join a travel group to take care of your budget, and of course you can join our groups, but on trips like mountaineering we recommend going in small groups. To join a group, ask us for the dates and we will send you the necessary information to be able to join any of our trips.

Why go in a private trip: For trips whether trekking or high mountains, going privately is the most recommended option, but the costs are more expensive. So, if one joins a group, the prices will be more reasonable. In the mountains, the only disadvantage is if you are in a wall with another partner and if one of the participants gets tired or gets sick. In this case, you have to abort or cancel the summit and return together. For more information, contact us. We can schedule a call via WhatsApp to clarify all your questions.

In a mountain, for example, if 3 people go and one of the participants falls ill on the route, for security reasons they have to cancel or abort the summit or return all together. The same in a technical mountain if the climbing partner gets sick they all have to return, for these reasons sometimes it is better to go private only because for a single person the costs are more expensive for the same reason that the trip would already be private .
